

ANALYST

Compass Lexecon is an economics and business consulting firm with offices in Cambridge, MA; Chicago, IL; Oakland, CA; San Francisco, CA; Los Angeles, CA; Washington, DC; New York NY and Tucson, AZ. We are currently recruiting Analysts for our Cambridge office.

Compass Lexecon provides economic analysis, business advice, and litigation support to industry organizations, governments, major corporations throughout the U.S. and abroad, and law firms. Our firm specializes in microeconomic issues of competition, antitrust, and regulation in such sectors as energy, environment, transportation, information, communications, entertainment, property rights, and manufacturing. Compass Lexecon is comprised of a unique combination of leading economic researchers, individuals at the forefront of public policy debates, and a team with extensive consulting experience. Our staff has experience and education that span industries and disciplines.

Compass Lexecon is interviewing for the entry level position of Analyst. The position demands knowledge of or interest in economics, a broad range of research skills, and the ability to perform quantitative analysis. Analysts are involved in nearly all aspects of project work, interacting closely with other analysts, directors, and firm principals in analyzing data, preparing client presentations, and drafting reports. Through their involvement, Analysts gain a comprehensive understanding of the industries and public policy issues relevant to the projects we work on. As skills and competencies develop, there will be greater opportunity for independent work and client interaction.

We seek candidates who possess strong academic backgrounds. Preferred applicants will have completed significant coursework in economics or related areas. Demonstration of quantitative skills, writing ability, qualitative skills and familiarity with computer applications are all desirable qualities. Beyond these criteria we seek applicants who will share our quest for the highest quality work.

We are hiring for positions with a start date in July 2010. Compensation and benefits are competitive with other major economics consulting firms.
